CONTEMPLATION: A long loving look at the real.

To take a long loving look at something --a child, a glass of wine, a beautiful meal-this is a natural act of contemplation, of loving admiration" The problem? "All the way through school we are taught to abstract; we are not taught loving awareness" Never have I heard contemplation more excitingly described: a long loving look at the real

SERMON REFERENCE: Romans 1:16-22

Now, what about those who’ve never heard the Gospel, those who are lost, eternally lost, who’ve never heard the Gospel? Is God just, is God righteous, is God good, is God loving, who could let such a thing happen? I want to write four things upon your heart as we look into Romans chapter 1 and chapter 2 I ...

In Loving Memory Of - Kane Funeral

The call is to a nature that hides within the soul And even if it’s open to others he can’t explain It's a force below the surface, even its owner may never know It's a call to a nature in his heart It's a mystery that may remain There are many calls and natures though some may never show To shape the earth they walk on, to make Nature yield
